PLAINTIFFS' UNOPPOSED MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE
THIRD AMENDED COLLECTIVE ACTION COMPLAINT

COME NOW Plaintiffs, Jose Angel Lopez, Michael James Lyons, Enoldo Leyva, Odis Graham, Jr., Francisco Avalos, and Wilmer Cantillo, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15(a), and request leave to file the attached Third Amended Collective Action Complaint. The Third Amended Collective Action Complaint includes new defendants, three new plaintiffs who wish to join the lawsuit, and additional liability facts and theories under the FLSA.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves and other current and former employees who were misclassified as “independent contractors” by Defendants, Allis-Chalmers Energy Inc., Allis-Chalmers Tubular Services LLC, formerly known as Allis-Chalmers Tubular Services, Inc., and Archer Tubular Services LLC (collectively “the Allis-Chalmers Defendants”), to recover compensation, liquidated damages, attorneys’ fees, and costs, pursuant to the provisions of Section 216(b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

2. Plaintiffs filed their Original Collective Action Complaint on November 1, 2011.

3. The Allis-Chalmers Defendants served an answer on December 5, 2011.

4. Plaintiffs filed their First Amended Collective Action Complaint as a matter of course on December 16, 2011, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15(a).

5. Plaintiffs filed their Motion for Certification of Collective Action and Request for Notice Pursuant to Section 216(b) on January 17, 2012. The Court granted Plaintiffs’ motion on February 8, 2012. In doing so, the Court certified the following class definition:

“All current and former casing floor hands, stabbers, and tong operators who were classified as ‘independent contractors’ by Archer during the time period of November 1, 2008 to the present.”

6. The Allis-Chalmers Defendants attempted to settle with the limited initial certified class, while refusing to engage in any discovery and sought protection from discovery by filing a motion for protective order on February 29, 2012. In their motion, Defendants argued that discovery was neither warranted nor necessary in the face of an offer of “complete relief.” This Court denied that motion on March 23, 2012, thereby allowing Plaintiffs to proceed with discovery.

Defendants then filed a Motion for Reconsideration on April 2, 2012, asserting the same arguments and complaints that were previously denied. The Court denied that motion on April 13, 2012.

7. Plaintiffs obtained leave to file their Second Amended Collective Action Complaint on April 17, 2012, after the Allis-Chalmers Defendants disclosed additional job titles that were admittedly properly included in the class, including “Coil Tubing Operators, Laydown Operators, Laydown Assistants, Service Techs, Mud Tool Hands, Hammer Techs, Shop Hands, Fill-Up Tool Operators, Dispatchers, Drivers, District Administration Workers, and Pushers (a/k/a field supervisors or service supervisors), Casing Floor Hands, Stabbers, and Tong Operators”.

8. The Allis-Chalmers Defendants have produced personnel, time, and payroll records and other employment-related documents on a rolling basis over the last two months. After reviewing those records, it has become necessary for Plaintiffs and Potential Class Members to amend their complaint to include not only Allis-Chalmers Energy Inc., Allis-Chalmers Tubular Services LLC, Allis-Chalmers Tubular Services Inc. and Archer Tubular Services LLC as culpable parties to this action, but other wholly owned subsidiaries of Allis-Chalmers Energy Inc. and their successor companies.

II. ARGUMENT AND AUTHORITIES

9. Leave to amend should be freely given when justice so requires. Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(2); Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182 (1962).

10. The Court should allow the filing of Plaintiffs’ amended pleading because it is appropriate and necessary. See Gamma-10 Plastics, Inc. v. Am. President Lines, Ltd., 32 F.3d 1244, 1255-56 (8th Cir. 1994).

11. Plaintiffs have recently identified “day rate” employees who seek to join this lawsuit.¹ These “day rate” employees were not paid a flat day rate regardless of the hours worked. Rather, the Allis-Chalmers Defendants’ payroll practice was to dock “day rate” employees’ wages when they did not work a full day, which is in violation of 29 C.F.R. § 778.112.² The FLSA provides that, if an employee is paid a flat sum for a day’s work, the employee is entitled to extra half-time pay at his regular rate (determined by dividing the total hours actually worked) for all hours worked in excess of forty in the workweek. Id. However, in the absence of a valid day rate plan, the FLSA requires the Allis-Chalmers Defendants to compensate its “day rate” employees for all overtime hours worked at no less than one and one-half times their regular rate of pay. Id.; see also 29 U.S.C. § 207(a)(1).

12. Payroll records indicate that Plaintiffs and Potential Class Members were paid by Allis-Chalmers Energy Inc., while other employment-related documents indicate that not only Allis-Chalmers Energy Inc.³, but also the following wholly owned subsidiaries, employed “independent contractors” and “day rate” employees during the relevant window of recovery in this case:

- a) Allis-Chalmers Tubular Services LLC⁴;
- b) Allis-Chalmers Drilling LLC⁵;

¹ It should be noted that certain of these “day rate” employees were misclassified as “independent contractors” and have previously opted-in to the current collective action. For example, Odis Graham, Jr., a named plaintiff in the amended complaint, was employed by the Allis-Chalmers Defendants as an “independent contractor” from December of 2009 until March of 2010, at which time he was reclassified as a “day rate” employee. See ACT-010609 through ACT-010610, attached hereto as Exhibit “B” and incorporated as if set forth fully herein.

- g) Strata Directional Technology LLC¹⁰;
- h) AirComp LLC¹¹; and

13. While there is likely some dispute as to who the actual employer is for purposes of the FLSA, Plaintiffs and Potential Class Members offer the above information as evidence of “a common policy or plan” in violation of the FLSA.¹³ Accordingly, Plaintiffs and Potential Class Members have named Allis-Chalmers Energy Inc., Allis-Chalmers Tubular Services LLC, Allis-

14. In light of this new information, Plaintiffs and Potential Class Members request leave to file their amended complaint to include the above-named defendants, three new plaintiffs and additional liability facts and theories relating to (a) the absence of a valid “day rate” plan; (b) those “day rate” employees not being paid time and a half of their regular hourly rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per workweek; and, (c) “a common policy or plan” to violate the FLSA.

15. A true and correct copy of the proposed Third Amended Complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit “A”.

16. The deadline for amendment of pleadings is September 4, 2012.

17. Defendants are not opposed to this motion.

III. CONCLUSION

As stated herein, Plaintiffs have discovered new information concerning improper pay practices implemented by the Allis-Chalmers Defendants on a company-wide basis, and three new plaintiffs would like to join this lawsuit. For these reasons, Plaintiffs ask the Court to grant leave to file the amended pleading, and for such other and further relief to which they may show themselves justly entitled.
